

SCS :-

SCS Formed

SCS has been formed to address the communications market.

This company provides specialist software to transfer voice, data, and fax over portable satellite phones.

This is an emerging market, with satellite phones have just become commercially viable.

The company has software including encryption, compression and security where necessary to address this opportunity. Additionally the company has other communications and e-commerce products including email, proxy servers and small office solutions to cope with all the communications needs of SMEs